Roger is the Building Official for the City of New Hope, Minnesota. He is a State of Minnesota Certified Building Official; additionally, he holds multiple certifications from the International Code Council.

Roger has more than 35 years of experience in the construction industry. That includes single-family and-multi-family residential construction and inspections as well as industrial, business, and mercantile occupancies including the Mall of America.

Educating others has long been a passion for Roger. He is an instructor for the International Code Council, for the University of Wisconsin-Madison College of Engineering, and for Minnesota-Licensed Residential Contractors. Always eager to help others in the industry, Roger travels across the county to present educational seminars.

As a driving force behind the inception of the Association of Minnesota Building Officials (AMBO), Roger continues his active involvement in the organization. He is the past Chairman and the current Executive Officer. Notably, he is a key player in organizing the annual and very successful ICC Region III Educational Institute.
